

ARMENIAN LADY TO SPEAK HERE NEXT SUNDAY

Lady Ann, Native Armenian, Will Speak Here in the Interest of the Near East Relief on Next Sunday.

Maysvillians and Masonians will have an opportunity to hear a native Armenian on present conditions in that country at the First Presbyterian church on next Sunday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock.

A letter received by Rev. Davis from the State Director of the Near East Relief in regard to the coming of Lady Ann follows:

"My dear Brother Davis: When the engagement was made for speakers at Maysville on September 10th it was our intention to send Dr. Mullins as the principal speaker but when we learned we could have Lady Ann, a real Armenian and one of the highest type, for the week of September 10th we felt sure your people would appreciate the opportunity of hearing so gifted a speaker.

"Lady Ann is scheduled to speak in Lexington at the Central Christian church next Thursday evening at a big mass meeting especially arranged for her. On Friday she is to address the citizens of Mt. Sterling and from there she goes to your city for Sunday. Please make any arrangement that you deem best as she can be with you until after the night service. From your city she goes to Ashland and Catlettsburg and then jumps across the country to Kansas City.

"Lady Ann is a beautiful Christian with a most charming personality and her English compares favorably with any I have ever heard. I am sure every one will feel grateful to you for bringing so gifted a woman to Maysville. Very sincerely yours,

"BETH HIGGINS, State Director."

MAYSVILLIANS OWN ARISTOCRATIC DOGS

Brother and Niece of White House Dog Owned By Maysville Fanciers.

Dr. B. P. Phillips, owns Limestone Woody, brother to the great Liddle Boy, the White House dog of President Harding; Sherman Ann owns Miss Pauline Frederick, niece of the great Liddle Boy. These are perhaps the highest bred dogs in this section of the state, all from the great international champion Tintin Tip Top.

The following clipping is taken from the Cincinnati Times-Star:

"Charles W. Quetschke, Toledo, O., who will be the judge at the Alredale show of the Cincinnati Alredale Terrier Club at Chester Park, Thursday September 7th, has written to President Harding, asking that he send Liddle Boy, the White House pet, for exhibition in the local show. Quetschke is the man who presented the president with the famous Liddle Boy. He has assured the president that he will be personally responsible for Liddle Boy.

Tintin Tip Top, Liddle Boy's sire, also sire of Dr. Phillips Limestone Woody, and grand sire of Sherman Ann's Miss Pauline Frederick, and distinguished as the international Alredale will be brought by Quetschke, who owns him for exhibition in the show at Chester Park. Neither Liddle Boy nor Tintin Hip Top will compete for the prizes.

BURLEY DIRECTORS MEET WEDNESDAY IN FINAL SESSION.

The board of directors of the Burley Tobacco Growers Co-operative Association will hold its regular monthly meeting Wednesday at the offices of the association at Lexington beginning at 10 o'clock a. m. It was said to be probable that the directors would be in session throughout the day though nothing was given out as to the business that might be brought before it. This will be the final meeting of the present board, as a new board will be elected September 18 by delegates chosen by ballot in a general election September 16, and the new board will take charge the first regular meeting in October. It was said that there probably would be few changes in the board, as most of the growers seem to be satisfied with their present management.

GOOD NEWS FOR CIVIL WAR VETER- ANS IN NEW RULING

Secretary Fall Orders a Strong Liberalization of the Practice of the Federal Pension Bureau.

Hon. A. B. Fall, Secretary of the Interior Department, himself a Spanish War veteran and a most appreciative and sympathetic friend of men "who have borne the brunt of battle" and their widows and orphans, has handed down in the Kennedy case an important decision concerning the commencement of the $72 rate allowed by the act of May 1, 1920, to veterans of the Civil and Mexican Wars whose physical conditions are such as to require the regular aid and attendance of another person.

Prior to April 25, 1921, when Secretary Fall handed down his decision in the Graham case, the increase to $72 per month was made to commence from the date of medical examination of the pensioner by a surgeon or board of surgeons designated by the Pension Bureau. Secretary Fall had not been in office two months when he rendered the decision in the Graham case under which this narrow and restricted interpretation of the act of May 1, 1920, was modified and the $72 rate was made to commence from the date of filing the claim, therefore, if the evidence in the case showed the condition of helplessness existed at that time.

In that decision the Secretary enunciated a most just and equitable rule of practice: "Applicants for pension should not be penalized because of delay, necessary though it be, of the Government."

The decision in the Kennedy case holds that "if a person in receipt of pension under existing law is shown to be, on the date of approval of act (May 1, 1920), in a physical condition requiring regular aid and attendance of another person and entitling him to the rate of $72 per month under the provisions of section 2 of said act, then said rate of $72 is to commence from the date of the approval of said act (May 1, 1920); but if he is not shown to be in the physical condition entitling him to said rate on said date, then on any subsequent date that said conditions are shown to exist."

Approximately 52,000 claims for the $72 rate have been allowed since May 1, 1920, and at the present time about 37,000 veterans are in receipt of said $72 rate. In none of these cases has the pensioner been afforded the opportunity to show by evidence whether the conditions entitling him to said rate existed on May 1, 1920, or if they did not then exist, the subsequent date on which said conditions first existed. In the cases heretofore allowed reissues can be made, under the terms of the Kennedy decision, to commence the $72 rate from May 1, 1920, the date of approval of this act, or from the date when the condition of helplessness is shown after the approval of this act. Pensioners now in receipt of $72 under the act of May 1, 1920, may be entitled to an earlier date of commencement of said rate; widows of pensioners who were allowed $72 per month under said act and have since died, may be entitled to a greater amount of accrued pension than they received in settlement of claims for pension due to date of death of their soldier husbands.

VETERANS HOLDING REUNION AT PARK WITH MANY FRIENDS

Survivors of the Sixteenth and Tenth Kentucky Regiments Shake Hands and Talk Over Old Times—Relatives and Friends Attend.

Although there are few of the old veterans of the Tenth and Sixteenth Kentucky Regiments left the great majority of those living were at Beechwood Park Wednesday to attend the annual reunion and with them there were many relatives and friends.

The old soldiers and their friends had a great day meeting old comrades and talking over old times.

The meeting proper was opened in the park pavilion by President R. S. Hudson, of Flemingsburg, and Rev. J. J. Dickey led in the opening prayer. Following music by a choir the following committees were named:

Resolutions—Comrades Dryden, Metcalfe and Harding; Memorial: Comrades Cropper and Hearst and Revs. Barbour and Dickey.

During the past year six members of the thin ranks were called and fitting memorial services were held for them addresses being made by Dr. John Barbour, of the Presbyterian church, and Rev. J. J. Dickey, of Flemingsburg.

Delightful music was rendered by a band organized and led by Allan Wood, cornet soloist of the Kentucky Cardinals. The old veterans greatly appreciated music furnished by the boys.

The president is elected for life as is also the secretary so that Mr. R. S. Hudson, of Flemingsburg, holds over as president and Mrs. G. W. Hook, of Peebles, Ohio, as secretary. Vice presidents were chosen as follows:

Tenth Kentucky—Capt. C. L. Dudley, Flemingsburg.
Sixteenth Kentucky—H. C. Metcalfe, Brooksville.

The official account of this year's meeting by the secretary will be published in the Public Ledger within a few days.

TWO CASES FALL IN COURT POLICE.

The case against Tom Preston charged with a breach of the peace in beating his wife at their house boat home in the Ohio at the foot of Cottage street, fell through with and the defendant was discharged by Judge Curran in City Court Wednesday afternoon when the wife, who made the charges, admitted that she had been drinking liquor and it was proven that she was drunk thereby discrediting her as a witness.

The case against Chas. Mitchell, charged with being the owner of a moonshine still found by officers in the willows near the Preston boat, also fell through when Mrs. Preston, the chief prosecuting witness testified that she did not know to whom the still belonged although she had previously told officers that it was Mitchell's property.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Morris, of Plumville, spent Saturday with Mrs. Morris' parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Morgan.

SQUADS OUT TODAY FOR VARSITY FOOT BALL AGGREGATION

Coch Schneider Expects Large Number of Youngsters on the Athletic Field This Afternoon To Try For Squad.

At the High School Tuesday morning the statement that foot ball would be included in the athletic activities this year was greeted with applause and acclamation. If interest and enthusiasm count for anything the student body is behind the faculty and coach and Maysville should be represented by a winning team on the gridiron this year.

Twenty-six boys answered the coach's call for a short meeting at noon. These boys, full of pep, school spirit and all that goes to make athletics worth while were an inspiration to the coach, who in a few words, told them what he expected of them, that training would start Wednesday, etc. For the benefit of those boys who for various reasons may not have been able to attend the meeting Tuesday noon but who are planning to try out for one of the teams it may be said that they are to bring a pair of old trousers, shoes (not oxfords), and a sweater, jersey or heavy shirt.

Mr. Noel has secured the use of the old baseball field for practice.

Quite a few of the former students who have been playing football at various colleges were present Tuesday morning and offered their services. They will be seen in action Wednesday with sections of the squad.

The Ladies' Aid Society of Second M. E. Church, South, will meet Thursday afternoon at 2:30 at the church. Each member is asked to attend as election of officers will take place at this meeting.

Sam Middleman wants beef hides, will pay the highest cash price 20J-tr first gas bills.

FAULTY PAPERS WIN DISMISSAL IN MOONSHINE CASE

Henry Moore, Colored, Charged With Moonshining, Dismissed When Affidavit for Search Warrant Is Found Faulty.

Although a large copper still and a quantity of mash was found by local police when they searched Henry Moore's home at Union and Front streets several months ago and this equipment was on hand as evidence against the man on a charge of moonshining, Circuit Judge C. D. Newell would not permit the use of the outfit as evidence or the testimony of the arresting officers, when Attorney M. J. Hennessey, representing the defendant, questioned the validity of the affidavit upon which City Judge Harry C. Curran issued the search warrant, in Circuit Court Wednesday morning.

Attorney Hennessey pointed out that the affidavit for the search warrant was not drawn according to law in that it did not describe the property to be searched and peremptory instructions were given the jury to find the defendant not guilty.

This is a question which has been much discussed in the courts since the advent of troubles over search warrants in liquor cases. The courts throw the greatest protection around the home and are always very strict that every legal requirement has been met before one's home is searched by officers for any purpose.

There are several other liquor cases pending in which, it is understood, the same question will be raised.

POPULAR ABERDEEN PASTOR RETURNED.

ENROPE'S SAD AWAKENING.

Another international banker has returned from Europe, after a few months study of the condition of his securities over there, and he wants some sort of "composition settlement" of international indebtedness. "If Europe would agree to a sound program of debt readjustments and a wiping out of the worthless currencies, both America and England could well afford to agree to an indefinite postponement (mark he does not say cancellation) of the large amounts due each on account of the loans made to the respective countries during the late war. If such a program were agreed upon and put into operation, trade and commerce between nations would soon revive, and thereby America and England would indirectly recover their principal in this manner much sooner than they can from debtors who are totally unable to pay and who are getting weaker year by year." The gentleman paints in gloomy colors "the sad awakening" that has now taken place in Europe, where "the people have come out of the trance to find that their situation is far worse instead of the expected better." "And now," he says, "almost four years after the ending of the great conflict, we find England alone able to balance her budget." "The world is looking to America," etc.

Well, why does not Europe agree to a sound program of debt readjustments? Why is it that her statesmen can not agree on anything tangible, but each succeeding conference breaks up in a quarrel? Are we to agree on "indefinite postponement" before Europe agrees on readjustments? He speaks of our indirectly recovering through trade and commerce. But where do our bond holders come in? In trade and commerce would not the international bankers get first crack at it—maybe last?

As for Europe's sad awakening, if those peoples expected to better their condition by the most horrible war in history, it was, as Dr. Johnson said, "the triumph of hope over experience." Certainly the United States should not be expected to be penalized for Europe's trance. If it had not been for us the trance would be complete dissolution for the Allies and a magnificent spoil for the Central Powers. Europe has had a period from the fall of Rome to the present day to teach her the perils of a seance with war. Possibly her situation today and for some years to come will do more than anything else to impress upon her the blessings of peace.

The returned banker holds up England as the sole example of a European nation which can balance her budget. That is a splendid tribute to British manhood—the old bulldog tenacity. Why do not the other nations emulate her? Or, if they are prevented from doing so because each is trying to hog-tie the other, why do they not cry quits, quote Christ, and keep His Golden Rule?

LABOR'S RIGHT

Iowa Republicans in state convention in Des Moines defined with clarity and soundness the rights of organized labor and of the individual citizen.

The platform recognizes "the right of labor to organize for its own protection and its right to act collectively in a lawful manner," but the Constitution of the United States "guarantees to every citizen the right of life, liberty, property and the pursuit of happiness, and every individual who wants to engage in any legitimate employment, whether he be a member of a labor organization or not, has the right to do so without being intimidated or molested."

It would be impossible to maintain a just and continuing government upon a contrary principle or theory of human rights. As the individual owes an obligation to the government, so the government owes a counterbalancing obligation to the individual. A government, whether it be Federal, State or local, which neglected or refused to protect the individual in his constitutional and lawful rights would be worse than a failure; it would be a deception. —Spokane Spokesman-Review.

BRITAIN PROFITS HEAVILY

Great Britain is prospering over America's twin strikes, John Bull's entire industrial situation being favorably affected.

England's coal mines have all reopened and business is booming as a result of orders from the United States for the early delivery of large quantities of coal.

The Welsh coal mines, which have been idle for a long time, are beginning to operate to full capacity. Tens of thousands of men have secured work, the textile and iron industries being enlivened in sympathy with the new activities in the coal fields, and, for the first time in a long period, the government's revenues are considerably more than its expenditures.

According to the commercial attaches of the United States in London, Great Britain is mining more coal than it has mined in years.

The benefits accruing, directly or indirectly, to England from the coal strike are much larger than one ordinarily would think. —Marion Star.

In once sense, Hancock was right in declaring that the tariff is a local issue. It is local in the sense that the Congressman whose district has products that need protection will vote for protection on such products, even if he votes for free trade on everything else. But fundamentally the statement is not true. Whether the United States should or should not maintain a protective tariff is a national issue, for the welfare of the country as a whole is affected by the decision of that question. If the factories are closed because of heavy importations, the agricultural producers will have no profitable market for their commodities. On the other hand, if the agricultural producers are not prosperous, the manufacturers will have a poor market for their output. To a broad minded statesman, the tariff is a national issue.

The Norfolk, Va., Pilot remarks that Missouri has decided to return Reed to the Senate. Oh, no it hasn't. The primary election was only a party affair. The election will be held on the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November. A Republican will be sent to the Senate.

Ledger Service—Efficiency

$90,000

The fiftieth annual meeting of the Kentucky Trotting Horse Breeders Association at Lexington, October 2-11, will certainly be a Golden Jubilee event; for $90,000 in stakes and purses will be distributed amongst the winners and the racing is certainly to be of the highest class. The big stakes have filled to overflowing with the best horses in America and no purse is for less than $1,000.

Every day with its four or more races will be a big day and the opening, Monday, October 2, will certainly be a hummer; for on that day The Futurity for two-year-olds, worth $7,000 to the winner, and the Walnut Hall, worth $3,000 in addition to the cup, will be decided. Two purses for $1,000 each will complete the program. On Tuesday, October 3, The Kentucky Futurity for three-year-olds, worth $14,000, is programmed for decision and on the same day there are three class races, not one worth less than $1,000.

On Wednesday, October 4, The Cumberland, always a sensational racing race, and three other fast races are on the program. The Transylvania, $5,000 always the greatest race of the year, for trotters eligible to 2:05 class June 1, is scheduled for Thursday, October

5. On Friday, October 6, The May Day for two-year-olds, whose estimated value is $13,000, as well as The Board of Commerce, for the free-for-all pacers, ought to draw an immense crowd for it is seldom that the public has an opportunity to see two such races on the same day. The classic stake, The Kentucky, is set for Saturday, October 7, and The Phoenix, $4,000, which will probably bring out one of the greatest fields of fast pacers ever seen is on the card for Monday, October 9.

On Tuesday, October 10, The Castleton and The Lafayette, the former for $4,000 and the latter for $2,000, will furnish two of the most sensational races of the year; and on Wednesday, October 11, The Ashland and The Lexington will be decided. On the last day the program calls for four of the best races of the meeting. Experts pronounce this the best program ever issued by any trotting association.

New York Letter

by Lucy Jeannie Price

New York. — A restless and enterprising resident of Garden City, Long Island, is doing his best to make the city up-to-date, even if it eventually lands him in jail. A few nights ago, at one of the local clubs, a business man was heard expressing himself on the general slowness and sleepiness of his home town. "Folks out to waken up a bit," he said. "They go to bed at 10 o'clock." Shortly afterwards, people's telephone bells began ringing along about 2 and 3 a. m., and when the frightened householder is sufficiently awake to find the 'phone and answer it, he is met by cheery laughter and the person calling cuts off. The telephone company and the police are working together to make sure that they are on the trail of the right man, and then Garden City folks are going to have their good ten hours of sleep again.

It's pathetic the way some people have to work so hard to make an honest living and then have it stolen from them! Here's the poor bootleggers, now. "Bootleggers have to hire watchmen nowadays because so many people are dishonest," A. F. Dercole told Magistrate Oberwager the other day in court, at the arraignment of two men charged with illegal transportation of liquor. Dercole said he was employed as a watchman by bootleggers.

Life keeps pretty well-balanced in spite of everything. Every time delicatessens or votes take woman away from her hours at home, something else draws her back. We talked "woman's place is in the home" for so long that we grew convinced that it was true. Then it all seemed upset; but now who comes along to lengthen women's hours at home? Who, indeed, but those benefactors who make her beautiful! Four hours at a beauty shop to get a hair-wave made permanent has been for the past few years accepted as an essential part of woman's routine every six months or so. It was too bad that the beef must go unroasted and the baby unadmired on those afternoons, but fashion spoke and must be obeyed. Now, Nestle, the man who started all the trouble has come to the rescue. He is sending forth a home outfit to overcome that difficulty. This is the fruition of 17 years of work on improvements of various kinds to make waves lovelier and more lasting and all that, until he has achieved the climax in this "Every-woman-her-own-waver-in-her-own-home" equipment for his new laundry process. It contains the curling heaters, bottle of lanolin, 30 flannel strips and all else that goes to turning plain Mary into lovely Marilyn.

If William Allen White has doubts about the modern boys' love for dogs being what it used to be, he ought to comfort himself with the thought of little girls' affection for them. Story tellers may assign the dog as the special friend of boy, but facts don't bear them up. A black and white setter dog over in Brooklyn owes its life to the sympathy of the little girl it attacked the other day. Patrolman Humers saw the setter go after the child, tear her dress and throw her into a panic. He rushed to the spot and was about to shoot the dog when the little girl pleaded with him so intensely for its life that he relented and took it to the police station instead to hold for examination.

Jane Cowl will play the principal role in the first production of the Equity Players at the eighty-eighth street Theater. The opening production will be a modern Spanish play entitled "Malvaloca." After two months, which has been fixed as the life of each play, Miss Cowl will return to the management of the Selwyns. The Equity Players will then produce "Hospitality," an American tragedy by Leon Cunningham. They will begin their season, October 2.

A brand new business has come to town. It is flower renting. When a dinner party is being given the hostess can go down the block and rent gorgeous flowers for the table. They are put up in such a manner that they can be placed back on display and redisplayed of readily. Sometimes the same bouquets grave five or six dinner tables before they are abandoned forever.

COLLEGE PRESIDENT SPOKE ON CHRISTIAN EDUCATION SUNDAY

Head of Pikeville College Delivers a Masterly Address at First Presbyterian Church on Last Sunday—Heard By Many.

Dr. James F. Record, president of Pikeville College, spoke on "Christian Education" at the Presbyterian church Sunday morning. Dr. Record has been at the head of the school at Pikeville for twenty-three years. During those years the school has grown from a mission school of twenty-five students with a property of $10,000 to a junior college with an enrollment of 400 students and a property valued at $230,000 and $50,000 endowment. The college is now accredited by the Department of Public Instruction of Kentucky for the granting of teachers' certificates. The Presbyterian church of Maysville is vitally interested in the institution and gives liberally, as a church and through individual members, to the support of its work. Dr. Barbour has been one of the leading members of the Board of Trustees for more than twenty years.

The campaign committee for the raising of $1,000,000 for christian education in Kentucky sent Dr. Record here Sunday. Dr. Record pointed out in his address the distinction between religious education and Christian education. Showing that much that passed as religious education is anti-Christian. He showed from reliable statistics that out of each 1000 children who entered the primary schools in 1903-04 only 600 completed the eighth grade; only 111 completed high school and only 14 completed a college course. He also showed that from the 1.4 per cent. who completed the college course there came more than 80 per cent. of the leaders in the industries, professions and government. He said, this 1.4 per cent. from which comes such a large percentage of leaders is the fertile field for the church to work upon. If politics are to be purified, if the ever recurring industrial disturbances are to be rightly and forever settled, if these United States are to be saved for Christ and democracy, the church must see to it that the christian faith of these leaders is not shaken and destroyed while they are in college. The church must provide educational institutions where the fundamental principles of Christianity are taught. This the church can and ought to do through adequate support of its denominational colleges.

"JAN OF THE BIG SNOW."

TRIED TO WRECK TRAIN CHARGE AGAINST BOYS.

Cynthiana — Jimmy Sturgeon and Bert Beagle, both of this county, are under arrest in connection with an attempt Saturday night to wreck south-bound Louisville & Nashville passenger train No. 31 from Cincinnati to Atlanta, due here at 10 o'clock. The wreck attempt was made near the city limits. Shortly before 10 o'clock Saturday night John Lemons reported to police that there was a bar of iron wired on the inside of the rail in such a way as to throw the flange of the engine wheel. A policeman hurried to the scene, arriving just in time to cut the wire and remove the obstruction before the train arrived. Sturgeon and Beagle who are about 18 years old, deny the charge. Their examining trial has been set for Thursday.

SPORTS

One of the methods to be used this and subsequent weeks to develop the muscles of the boys who come out for football at the High School is known as the Grass Drill.

The Grass Drill is an extraordinary means of development for the long boys, whose back muscles especially seem to need strengthening. And for all who participate in this exercise leads to perfect muscular co-ordination through movements arduous, but interesting, because involving both mental and physical effort besides an intense spirit of competition. The drill demands and teaches immediate response to the word of command—an indispensable requisite of football. It also has the priceless value that the test of endurance takes place under the direct supervision of the coach. The lazy man only too easily and naturally foregoes a very large percent of the value derived from the ordinary calisthenics, it being next to impossible for the leader to discover the lack of individual effort as the exercise is conducted. Again, in the ordinary exercises one is apt to hold the legs in a too rigid position. This position of the legs is especially to be avoided in football. Every effort, on the contrary, should be made to loosen the muscles of the upper leg and to increase their flexibility and snap.

In the grass drill, the squad is lined up at intervals of six feet. The commands are few in number, among them being the well known "Attention" when each member assumes the equally well-known position of the soldier. The arms in all positions other than "attention" are purposely placed in the most clumsy and least helpful position, in order that the transitions from "back" or "front" to "left" or "right" may be rendered as difficult as possible and the muscles less frequently used brought into action. At these commands the squad revolve their bodies in the fastest possible manner. All movements are to be made with the least possible motion but with the greatest possible speed.

At the command "front", if the men are at "attention", they throw their feet behind them and fall on their stomachs, at the same time folding the arms so that the hands protrude from beneath the arm-pits. If the next command is "back" the movement, when completed, finds them with feet and heads in reversed positions, the body lying supine and the arms folded behind and beneath so that finger tips protrude at the waist.

Hands, body, feet, neck, everything, in fact, is used in making the revolving twisting movements. The purpose is to throw the body into each succeeding position with the greatest speed and to make it difficult to get the hands into a position to help. One might conclude from this description that the drill is too rough and might easily lead to broken bones. As a matter of fact, the boys readily acquire the skill needed to make a perfect fall, and, according to Major Cavanaugh who introduced the drill at Dartmouth, there has never been an injury resulting from the grass drill.

The mental benefits are often as pronounced as the physical. Just as a boy in a football scrimmage finds himself unable to think quickly while his body is in an unnatural position, just so participants in the grass drill find it difficult to follow and instantly execute the commands. Ever after the drill has been thoroughly mastered, the mental processes demanded are by no means simple, as greatly increased speed is called for. Logically, the drill develops greater speed and accuracy of thought in the boy, and the ability to think speedily and accurately whatever the physical dilemma.

RUSSELL BROTHERS' ACT.

The Educational Film Exchanges News of Louisville, says:

"At Fontaine Ferry Park, Louisville, this week, the Russell Sisters do a very clever and entertaining act. In Maysville, the Russell Brothers are responsible for 'good acts' every week in the year. Tom Russell has been connected, for a number of years, with the city administration; and J. Barbour Russell is at the head of several civic organizations, but his hobby is the famous Maysville Boys' Band, which this year, is an outstanding feature of the Kentucky State Fair. Among the other 'good acts' performed by the Russell Brothers is the continuous booking of Educational short subjects for their Washington and Gem Theaters.—Hustle and 'Bustle' are other 'good acts' put on by Russell."

Miss Hazel Morgan and brother, Lemuel Morgan, of East Second street, have returned home after a delightful visit with their sister, Mrs. Rufus Miller, of Cincinnati.

foretelling the dreaded storm are the symptoms of women's diseases which point the way to physical and mental breakdown. The nervous irritability, the backache, the dragging pains, are not only hard to endure, but they bring certain knowledge of collapse unless something is done to relieve the sufferer. There is one standard remedy which has shown the way out for nearly fifty years. The women who have "come back" through the use of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound present an argument stronger than words could ever be.

Mr. and Mrs. Rufus Miller and Mr. and Mrs. Omar Grayson and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Morgan and little son, George Davis, motored up from Cincinnati Saturday to spend Labor Day with Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Morgan of East Second street.
